

From Bob Kanach, AARSPA President:

We are sending out this abbreviated newsletter because several time-sensitive items have come up that we need to bring to your attention immediately. I want to remind our members to be sure to sign up for our next luncheon on November 10 at the Center for Applied Technology - North. Please note that because the school needs to place the order for food supplies ahead of time, the registration deadline for this luncheon is October 18.

For many years Bob Cox has reviewed the financial records of this organization and has donated the fee that he would normally charge to the Scholarship Fund. Bob informed me recently that he will no longer be able to review the records but, true to his practice, asked that we again donate his fees to the Scholarship Fund. I want to personally thank Bob for his expertise over the past years as well as for his generous contributions to the Scholarship Fund.

Message from Karlie Everett, Chairman of the Scholarship Committee:

For many years the KiWives of the Commodore Mayo Kiwanis Club contributed to the schools in the Edgewater and Mayo communities. The group, no longer able to maintain its active status, has donated their remaining funds, $736.08, to the Scholarship for Scholars program through AARSPA. Both Bob Kanach, AARSPA President, and Karlie Everett, Scholarship Chair, have written letters of appreciation to the KiWives of Commodore Mayo. By way of this newsletter article, AARSPA publicly thanks these women for their continued support to the education community.

WHERE ARE YOU ?

Dear Members,

I keep hearing that AARSPA is important. I also hear that there are persons who want to help our association. BUT WHERE ARE THEY? The Nominating Committee worked hard, but could not find anyone to run for President-Elect and there are several vacancies for Committee Chairs and members.

We all are thankful for the Board of Education for providing help with health insurance and where would we be without our pension? This association makes every effort to keep our legislators aware of our needs. We work closely with the state association to keep members informed. But, we must continue working. Are you aware that AARSPA has no bargaining power? We are at the mercy of the Board and Legislative Body so we must be visible to them and let them know of our needs and of the interests that are so important to retirees.

Is it asking too much of those who are able to volunteer some time to this association? Our president, Robert Kanach, can't do it alone; let him know of your willingness to help. So think about what you can do to make AARSPA an organization that works for Retired Anne Arundel School Employees. WHAT CAN YOU DO?

A believer in AARSPA, Betty Ann White

THANKS TO THE FREE SCHOOL VOLUNTEERS - *They give a great tour of this early school.

The Free School is open, 1 - 4 P.M. on Sunday afternoons, July and through October 30 2011. The restoration of this first school built with tax monies in the 1720's is one of AARSPA's greatest achievements. If you have not visited this 287 year old school, there is still time to do it this year.

It is located at 1298 Lavall Drive off of Rutland Road, a short distance from Route 450 between Annapolis and Crofton. So, come to this Living History School/Museum on a Sunday afternoon for a most interesting tour by one of the following volunteers: Carol Aleksei, Betty Ann White, Judy & John Youngblood, Victoria Hutchins, Patricia Ericson, Elaine D'Aiso, Barbara Hunter, Martha Collison, Mary Ellen & Frank Street, Nancy Andrews, Betty Mitchell, Kay Tarter, Carolyn Webber, Carla Duls, Mary Ann Iverson, Karlie Everett, Martha & John Preston and Howard Hall.

Visits to the Free School at other times are by appointment. Call Max Muller, (410) 768-2824 or Howard Hall, (410) 573-0840 to arrange a visit.

There are six schoolmarms and school masters who lead lessons for Cub Scouts, Girl and Boy Scouts and school classes. They are Karlie Everett, Carla Duls, Betty Ann White, Carolyn Webber and Linda & Rick Wiles.

Admission to the School is free for all visitors. Select a date to visit and bring your neighbors, friends and grandchildren.

Remember that this old school has two features of the present time: air conditioning and indoor plumbing. So, plan your visit to the Free School.
